

1.0 Introduction to Community Infrastructure Levy (CIL) Review and Appeal Guidance

Stroud District Council (SDC) implemented CIL on 01/04/2017 following adoption in February 2017. The CIL Regulations 2010 (as amended) provide mechanisms for an appeal by the applicant / liable party of the levy either against the levy calculation or an enforcement procedure instigated by SDC as both the Charging and Collecting Authority.

Part 10: Appeals of the regulations inform that an appeal may be made where the applicant / liable party can demonstrate the following:

- The Charging Authority incorrectly calculated the amount of CIL
- The Charging Authority incorrectly apportioned liability between landowners
- The Charging Authority incorrectly determined Charitable Relief
- The Charging Authority incorrectly determined the Self-Build exemption
- The Charging Authority incorrectly applied surcharges
- The Charging Authority incorrectly deemed the development to have commenced
- The Charging Authority incorrectly issued a stop notice for non-payment

These are the only provisions through the CIL Regulations by which to appeal. There is no mechanism by which to contest if the development is liable or not.

Your application will be liable if you are creating new floorspace that falls into a category of the SDC Charging Schedule:

- Residential sites (not including older people's housing and sites within the Stroud Valleys exemption zone).
- Supermarkets and Retail Warehouses

And if the development is:

- Creating a dwelling
- Increasing the floor area by 100 sqm or more
- Converting a building that has not been in use [^]

[^] The definition of lawful use is contained in Regulation 40 (11) of the CIL Regulations 2010 as (amended). This states that an "in use building" is a building which "contains a part that has been in lawful use for a continuous period of at least six months within the period of three years ending on the day planning permission first permits the chargeable development".

The SDC Charging Schedule is available in full at: <https://www.stroud.gov.uk/environment/planning-and-building-control/community-infrastructure-levy-cil/charging-schedule-and-calculation>.

It is only if the applicant / liable party can demonstrate that the Charging Authority has calculated or apportioned the liability incorrectly, applied surcharges or served a CIL stop notice as part of enforcement incorrectly or determined a claim for relief or exemption incorrectly that an appeal can be made.

3.0 Appeal Procedure - Regulation 120

Regulation 120 sets out the procedure in which the appeal process should take;

- Submit the appeal as per the guidelines from the VOA or Planning Inspectorate, including all relevant information mentioned within the form. The completed appeal form comprises your representations in relation to the appeal.
- You may withdraw your appeal at any time if you decide, but this needs to be in writing to either the VOA or Planning Inspectorate.
- The VOA or Planning Inspectorate will acknowledge receipt of your appeal if it is accepted, along with a reference number. They will also send a copy of the appeal to all interested parties, to which representations can be made. Any representations received will then be shared with the appellant and interested parties.
- This then will trigger a 14 day period in which the appellant and interested parties can send any comments that they have on the submitted representations; those comments are copied to each of the other parties to the appeal. All representations must be considered by the VOA or Planning Inspectorate, who must notify the appellant and interested parties of the decision made and the reasons for that decision.

4.0 Costs – Regulation 121

The Valuation Office or Planning Inspectorate Inspector may make orders as to the costs of the parties to the appeal and as to the parties by whom such costs are to be paid.

The Planning Inspectorate has further information on applying for an award of appeal costs available at:
